Education and Compliance Training for Tobacco and Nicotine Retailers

The Missouri Show Me Retailer Training

The Missouri Show Me Retailer Training was developed to provide the information and tools necessary for retailers that sell tobacco and nicotine products to comply with the federal, state and local laws.

This program will highlight why the retail environment is an important place to help protect young people from addiction and disease while also providing additional insight on the various agencies responsible for the regulation and enforcement of tobacco and nicotine sales.

Owners, managers, and clerks of establishments that sell tobacco and nicotine products are strongly encouraged to take this brief useful program.

Benefits of the program include:

- Learning the importance of addressing youth tobacco use in the retail environment.
- Knowing how to comply with federal and state laws.
- Understanding the various agencies responsible for regulation and enforcement of tobacco and nicotine sales.
- Knowing how to better detect false ID's.
